

Governor Will Sign S. E. N. Bill

Asset Veto of Governor Only Way $1,000,000 Appropriation for the Southeastern State Normal School Can Be Defeated.

Word received from Oklahoma City Thursday about noon gives assurance that Governor Robertson is expected to sign the bill providing $1,000,000 for an Educational Building to be built for the Southeastern State Normal School. Governor Robertson is not quoted as saying that he would sign the bill, but the fact that he has already signed a bill calling for a similar appropriation for the Ada Normal school, the fact that the local school is in need of the improvement as badly as is Ada, indicates that he will sign the bill. From again, close friends of the Governor have as good as said that his signature would attach to the bill.

The only way the Governor could veto the measure would be by his own veto, and before Friday could be reached, the bill would be ready to pass. The bill is a measure to provide for the building of a new school building for the Southeastern State Normal School. The bill is a measure to provide for the building of a new school building for the Southeastern State Normal School. Dress Up Week April 4 to 13

Dress Up Our Bodies, Our Front Yards, Our Store Fronts, and So Forth, is the Idea—A National Movement.

The week from April fourth to thirteenth, inclusive, is National Dress-Up Week, and is being much advertised and much talked of all over the Nation. Durant business folks are making much about it, and the Mayor of Durant has issued a proclamation on the subject, which is printed below:

PROCLAMATION — "DRESS-UP WEEK," APRIL 4 TO 13.

WHEREAS, The National Government, in order that discharged soldiers and sailors may immediately find employment is urging its citizens to "buy what you need—buy it now" to stimulate trade, manufacture, etc., and

WHEREAS, The war is over and the cause for cruel economy is vanished and it is no longer necessary that our citizens do without the small luxuries they deprived themselves of during the war, and

WHEREAS, Spring is here, and nature's chosen time in which to brighten up and dress up, and

WHEREAS, To promote civility and the good feeling of our and every individual citizen,

I HEREBY PROCLAIM the days between April 4th and 13th shall be designated as official "Dress-Up Week," and call upon each individual, profession and business to use its best efforts within his or her power to make Dress-Up Week in Durant a success, thereby realizing its object as named above.

E. P. HYND, Mayor.

Our Greatest Single Asset

The greatest single asset that any store can have is the confidence of the people in its written word—their belief that its printed promises are substantial and solid.

The printed word of this store, commonly called its "advertisements," has created for it just this asset—Confidence.

Every announcement made has met with enthusiastic response from our patrons which is positive proof that such confidence exists. It is well, we believe, to make grateful acknowledgment of this confidence—and to affirm that the policies of this store upon which the confidence is builded will continue in force as long as this store remains.
